MORROW ORDERS TROOPS TO BE HELD READY

Declares Every Power of State
Will Be Used to Prevent Night Riding

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—Governor Morrow in offering rewards of $500 for the arrest and conviction of each person participating in night riding in Fleming and Bath counties Saturday night requested the courts in each county to forthwith make grand jury investigations of the bands of armed men who intimidated the tobacco farmers.

He also instructed the state adjutant general to have four troops of cavalry stationed at Louisville, London, Manchester and Louisville in readiness for immediate action.

"I intend to, and will use every power of the state to save the honor of the state, and prevent midnight outrages upon the citizens," the governor declared.

On the heels of the announcement came word that Circuit Judge Henry Prewitt will convene a special term of the Bath county grand jury at Owingsville. Judge C. D. Newell will likely deliver a special charge to the Fleming county grand jury when it convenes Monday at Flemingsburg.

WOMEN OF CITY URGED TO DRESS DECENTLY

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 28.—Declaring that "there has been a distinct lowering of moral standards in dress and behavior on the part of women and girls during the last year," the Churchwomen's Federation at its first Central Committee meeting at the Second Presbyterian Church adopted resolutions calling upon women and girls to refrain from indecent dress, the use of cosmetics and cigarettes and from gambling and drinking.

The resolution urged women to attempt to persuade other members of their sex to join in this effort "to maintain an exalted standard of womanhood in the city," and suggested that "the women and girls of the churches plan wisely for the social life of young people, linking it up wherever possible with the activities of the churches."

A number of committee reports were read at the meeting and Prof. R. P. Halleck spoke on "The Church and the Community."

WILSON'S STENOGRAPHER TO BE MAGAZINE EDITOR

Washington, Jan. 31.—President Wilson's confidential stenographer, Charles Swen, who has been with the President since 1913, has accepted the editorship of a short-hand magazine in Chicago.

With the exception of a three-month period of military service during the war, Swen has reported every speech of the President during his two terms in office and the meetings of the "Big Four" in Paris, as well as plenary sessions of the Peace Conference.

JOKES WITH GUARDS AS HE IS LED TO SCAFFOLD

Baltimore, Jan. 31.—George H. Terry, negro assailant of Mrs. Sadie Sibley, a white woman of Mount Winans, suburb, was hanged at the City Jail. On the scaffold he declared he was innocent, saying his father knew the man for whose crime he was convicted.

Terry joked with his guards as they were leading him preparatory to the march to the scaffold. "You sure are tying me up tight," he said "there is no chance of me getting away is there?"

$50,000 REWARD OFFERED FOR $50,000 STOLEN GEMS

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 31.—A reward of $50,000 has been offered for the recovery of jewels valued at $50,000 belonging to John L. Severance, local millionaire, which disappeared last Saturday night. Announcement of the reward appeared in newspaper advertisements.

A handbag which contained the jewels was found empty in a yard leading the police to believe they had been stolen.

SHERIFF'S MURDERER ELECTROCUTED MONDAY

Eddyville, Ky., Jan. 31.—Praying up to the time he left the death cell until the electric current was applied, Lee Ellison, negro, who was given the death penalty for the murder of Scott Hunter, sheriff of Hopkins county, which occurred several months ago, was put to death at 4:23 o'clock this morning. As the current was applied Ellison prayed for divine mercy.

After sending 2,000 volts through Ellison's body, the current was turned off for 30 seconds and then another 2,000 volts applied for 30 seconds, when death was announced.

Before going to death Ellison was baptized by the prison chaplain and a negro minister from Madisonville. Ellison's wife, who is serving a jail sentence at Madisonville, was granted a temporary parole, and she visited her husband last week.

While in his death cell, Ellison confessed to have fired the shot that killed Sheriff Hunter but said he did not intend to shoot him and thought he was shooting at a lot of negroes who had threatened his life.

TOBACCO MARKET REOPENS STRONG

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 31.—One of the best sales of the season is reported at the loose leaf tobacco houses today. Nearly all houses had heavy brakes and only four had completed sales at the noon hour. Nearly 475,000 pounds of Pryor will be offered buyers today and it is believed sales will be heavy all week, and growers will take advantage of the splendid season and bring their crops to the market, especially now when better prices are now being paid than at any time this season.

There were many high individual averages made today. An average of $11.35, made on the sale of 191-630 pounds, which sold for $21,745 is the highest made this season, and if the three other houses which have not completed sales make as good averages, indications are that the record will again be broken.

OIL NOTES

West Kentucky Petroleum Co., with Holbrook and Parks as local managers, have arranged for sufficient capital and have made preparations to fully develop the oil field north east of Hartford, provided they can secure the proper amount of acreage. If sufficient leases can be secured they will begin drilling in that section soon, otherwise so we are informed they will direct their attention to other fields as several companies have done heretofore.

The Howard well No. 2, east of Hartford, which was cleaned out and shot a few weeks ago is now idle on account of the inability of the managers to secure tubing. This and the other wells of that section will be in shape for operation as soon as the proper material can be secured.

McCLES—KEYES

Miss Susan McCles and Mr. Robert L. Keyes were married Jan. 8, at Hollywood, Cal. They will make Owensboro their home about February 1. Mr. Keyes has been connected with the Earl N. Swan oil interests for the past year and has been making Owensboro his home.

Mr. Keyes was located in Hartford for several months last winter and is well known here.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mr. John Bell, of this city, returned last Wednesday from St. Louis, Mo., where he had been for several days under treatment of Dr. M. Ney Smith of 501 Pine Street. On Jan. 12 he underwent an operation at Lendill Hospital in that city. He is recovering nicely and is able to be up and about.

SELLS INSURANCE AGENCY

Mr. A. S. Tanner, who some time last year purchased of Mr. W. H. Parks a half interest in the Continental Fire Insurance agency for Ohio County, has sold this interest to Mr. Parks and will make the race for Circuit Clerk, in Daviess county.

DEALERS WHO FAILED DID NOT USE NEWSPAPERS

Importance of Advertising Is Stressed at Meeting of Hardware Men

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 27.—Constructive adjustment of prices to lower levels, caution in the selection of merchandise, avoidance of overbuying in any line of stock, and cancellation of orders only in the case of absolute necessity were considered at today's session of the twenty-first annual convention of Kentucky Hardware & Implement Dealers' Association at the Jefferson County Armory.

Election of officers was to take place this afternoon. The organization will henceforth be known as the Kentucky Hardware & Implement Association.

"Mercantile agencies report that 84 per cent of the failures of retail firms in this country during 1920 were by men who did not advertise in the local papers," said R. H. Kennedy, Dayton, Ohio, in an illustrated lecture on "Getting the Most Out of Retailing."

Mr. Kennedy predicted better business conditions in the near future brought about by the readjustment of foreign trade relations and the co-operation of merchants. He said the textile mills would soon reopen and there would be a revival of the building industry. "Lack of sound business methods is the cause of between 80 and 90 per cent of failures," he declared.

Mr. Kennedy showed pictures of correct advertising and how to write and prepare copy. He emphasized the necessity of window display, pointing out the right and wrong methods. Slides portraying the service of clerks and the salesman's attitude to the customer were also shown.

"A man must know his business from beginning to end or he cannot make it a success. The overhead expense, what the work cost, how to attract trade by service, how to fix the selling price to give a net profit to the merchant and not overcharge the customer and the importance of buying must be studied," said Mr. Kennedy.

NEW AIRPLANE CHEAP AS SMALL AUTOMOBILE

Paris, Jan. 31.—A biplane which costs less than a two-seated motor car, weighs only 225 pounds, and by means of folding wings can easily be housed in a small space, is being put on the market in France. The claim is made that it is perfectly safe.

This new machine, the De Planchon Avionette, as it is called, is seventeen feet from wing-tip to wing-tip, twelve feet long, travels sixty miles per hour on an extremely modest supply of petrol, and can climb 1,500 yards in fifty minutes.

$13,883,819.826.36 IN FEDERAL TREASURY

Washington, Jan. 31.—Acting Treasurer Allen announced that a total of $13,883,819.826.36 2-3 in cash and securities was found in the treasury as a result of the court necessitated by the resignation of John Burke as treasurer.

This total is about $10,000,000 greater than usual and is accounted for by approximately that amount of notes deposited by foreign governments for war loans.

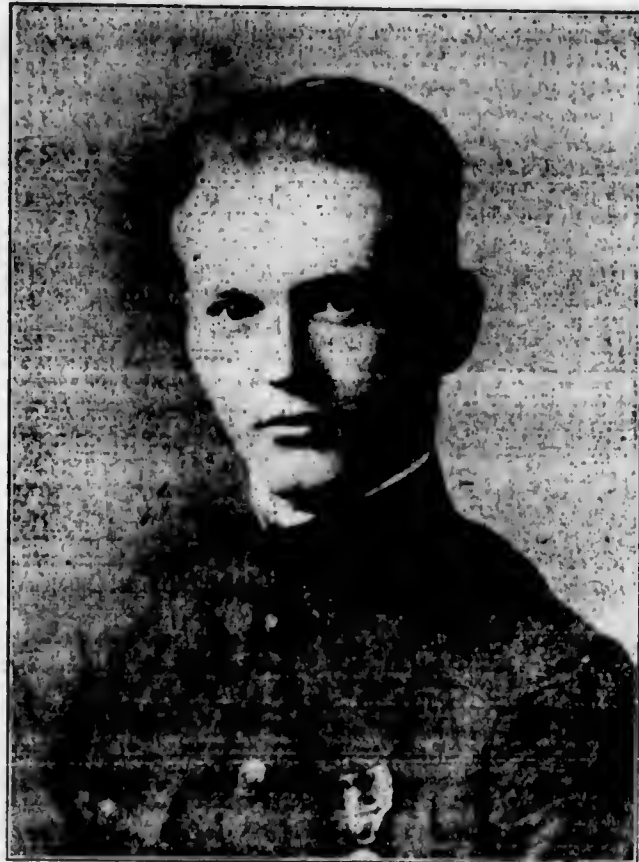

NEGRO PRISONERS GET AWAY FROM PARIS JAIL

Paris, Ky., Jan. 31.—Tearing a window sash from its frame, building a fire with it and heating the base of a limestone pillar between two window openings until it cracked, two negro prisoners, Robert Green and Thomas Bradley, charged with grand larceny, during the night escaped when they moved the stone post and squeezed through into the yard. They scaled a twenty-five-foot wall and fled.

Ex-Service Man Announces As Candidate For County Court Clerk

To the Voters of Ohio County.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Hartford, Ky.,

January, 25, 1921.

Having decided to make the race for the Republican Nomination for Clerk of Ohio County Court, I take this method of announcing my candidacy to you. I am personally acquainted with many of you, while a great number of you I have not had the pleasure of meeting. I shall attempt to give you a brief biography of myself and my life in order that you may know more about me and have my case before you for your consideration until I can have an opportunity to call on you personally.

I was born in Arnold Precinct, this County, in the year 1897, my parents being Ellis and Susan Tate, who were in meager circumstances financially. I was so unfortunate as to lose my mother at the early age of 4; my father, at the age of 5; consequently, I being the youngest of five children, was left without a home, when an uncle, L. D. Tate, took me into his home to care for me; there I had nothing more or less than a struggle for support and my education; my uncle being in only reasonable circumstances, old and frail. My preliminary education was obtained by an humble fireside, by the glow of the fire light, of nights after the chores were finished.

In the year 1916 at the age of 19, I entered a session of normal school, contemplating teaching in the rural schools later. When the conflict with Germany arose and the call for volunteers came I heeded the call and enlisted in the U. S. Army and from beginning to end I served in the United States, France, Belgium and Germany, for a period of two years, after which I returned to the States, and to Ohio County, and took up the position of Deputy County Court Clerk, under Mr. Blankenship, which position I now hold.

I place myself before you, feeling that I am fully capable of performing the duties of County Clerk, having had eighteen months experience in the office, and I feel that I merit the support of the people. I respectfully submit my case for your consideration and assure you that I will appreciate your support, influence and good will more than any one else.

Thanking you in advance for your consideration and assuring you that any help you may give me will be fully appreciated, I beg to remain

Very respectfully yours,

CHANGES WANTED IN RURAL SCHOOL LAW

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28.—County School Superintendents at their conference here preparatory to the inauguration of the new non-partisan county school system, adopted resolutions in favor of abolishing graded districts and emergency schools and the repeal and re-enactment along modern lines of the consolidated school law.

They also recommended abolishing the three-year high schools and endorsed the constitutional amendments providing for taking the State Department of Education out of politics and distributing the State school fund on a "more effective plan."

They went on record as opposing the recommendation of teachers, who wilfully resigned positions while under contract; endorsed higher qualifications for teachers, the centralization of the certifying power, and the basing of the salary schedule on professional training and scholarship and successful experience.

The new non-partisan school boards will be organized the first Saturday in March. They will elect County Superintendents and administer the county schools much on the same plan as city schools are operated, the whole county outside Independent districts becoming one district. The superintendents will recommend teachers for election by the boards and the boards have the right to assign teachers to the schools.

One of the changes agreed upon was that the schools of a county shall all open and close on the same day.

Superintendents may be elected for periods of one to four years. The four-year term was generally approved in order to give the incumbent time in which to put the new system into operation.

All but ten of the 120 superintendents were present. They were addressed by Dr. W. A. Gaasfield, president of Centre College; Dr. Cornell of the American Red Cross; John Carr, director of physical education; F. C. Button, supervisor of rural schools, and Melleny Rhoads of the University of Kentucky.

Superintendent J. H. Powers, Rowan County, was chairman of the Resolutions Committee.

RAW SUGAR AT LOW MARK

New York, Jan. 29.—Raw sugar was quoted at 4 cents a pound in the market here, the lowest price recorded in more than two years. This figure, including cost and freight, was due to renewed pressure.

MOTTO CONTEST PRIZE AWARDED BY GOVERNOR

Presents $3,950 to Four Winners

At Banquet: Advertising Men Speak

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 25.—Kentucky and Indiana prize winners in the slogan contest recently conducted by the Eveready Flashlight Company received their awards at a banquet held at The Tyler under the auspices of the Louisville Advertising Club. Gov. Edwin P. Morrow made the presentation speech.

The winner present and the amounts of the awards were: Col. C. W. Fowler, Louisville, $3,000, the first prize in the contest; S. L. Wright, Sr., New Albany, $500, third; Earl Williams, New Albany, $250 and Miss Mary Thronton Gans, Owensboro, $200.

The money to the first prize winner was presented in the form of a bag of gold pieces. The other awards were checks. Colonel Fowler's winning slogan was:

"Till driven back by Day's eyes."

In addition to the presentation by Governor Morrow, addresses were made by Elmer C. Adams, president of the Advertising Club; Don N. Garstin, business manager of The Louisville Times and The Courier-Journal, and vice president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World; F. A. Lawrenson, New York, vice president and sales director of the American Eveready Works; Mr. Wright and Colonel Fowler.

"The contest and the articles advertised," Governor Morrow said, "serve to impress the need in Kentucky of light, which is symbolic of safety, truth, education, virtue, progress and God's manifestation of love and kindness."

Speaking on "Advertising—A Mighty Business Force," Mr. Garstin pointed to the tremendous success of the contest, brought about through the medium of advertising. He developed the argument that no advertising can be successful unless it has the confidence of the public and is based on truth.

"The fact that advertising is a mighty force in business," Mr. Garstin declared, "is proven by this company's appropriation of $450,000 for advertising this year."

Mr. Lawrenson also spoke of the power of advertising and said that the contest cost the company $775,000.

"We do not spend money for advertising because we like it, but because it is the cheapest way to sell goods," he said. "Low selling costs mean low prices to the consumer."

Motion pictures were taken at the meeting. They will be shown at theaters here and throughout the country.

COURT HOUSE ITEMS

The following new suits have been filed since our last report:

Eddie Douglas vs. Neal Douglas; suit for divorce on grounds of abandonment. Plaintiff says their marriage was solemnized Feb. 22, 1908 and that defendant abandoned her in March 1915.

Earl Beasley vs. Eva Beasley; suit for divorce on grounds of abandonment. Plaintiff says marriage occurred Nov. 1, 1916 and that defendant abandoned him June 19, 1919.

E. F. Duke vs. Towsey Rogers; suit on account for $208.25.

COLORED CITIZEN DEAD

Ed Nail, an old and well liked colored citizen of Hayti, died Tuesday morning, Jan. 25, of senility. His age was 82 years. He was of the old, respectful type.

Funeral services were conducted at the Hayti burying ground, Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Larkin Hines preached the funeral.

GRADING TOBACCO UNDER FEDERAL LAW

Proposed As An Aid In Marketing; Warehouse Act With License Feature

Washington, Jan. 29.—In order to assist in placing the marketing of tobacco upon a more business-like basis the United States Department of Agriculture is about to begin investigations which will lead to the establishing of tobacco grades applicable throughout the entire industry. Though tobacco ranks fourth among the crops of the United States, returns more than $1,000,000,000 a year in agricultural wealth to the nation and more than $300,000,000 in annual revenue to the Government, it is marketed in a manner which producers of less important crops would regard as a short cut to financial ruin.

For this condition the specialists of the Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture, blame primarily the auction system of sales in certain sections and the private contract system in other localities. Under the former method loose piles of tobacco to be sold are placed on the floor of a warehouse and examined by the prospective buyers. The tobacco is not graded, nor does the owner have much opportunity to describe the merits of his product. The auctioneer then offers the tobacco for sale and the buyers are practically in a position to obtain the tobacco for any price they choose to pay.

Sold Privately By Some
In the latter case, the tobacco is sold privately by growers, who usually have an indefinite idea of market prices, to buyers who are fully informed. The sales frequently are made on the farm and confirmed by contracts that are more binding on the seller than on the buyer. The sale often is made before the tobacco is harvested. At the time of the transaction the tobacco may be so far from being in a marketable condition that even the buyer is unable to determine its value, in which case the farmer usually gets what the buyer estimates to be a safe price or chooses to offer.

In a bulletin published by the Massachusetts Experiment Station, it is stated that "under the contract method of sale the farmer has all to lose, with no corresponding gain; the buyer, little or nothing." The same statement would apply equally as well to the "auction system," department specialists say.

No Basis For Valuation
Because of lack of grades, the tobacco producer is unable to determine if he is receiving a reasonable price for his product. There is no basis for comparison between the prices in one community and those paid elsewhere. Quotations of one market usually mean little in other markets, for they are not based upon recognized standards of quality.

In October the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, held hearings in a number of cities for the purpose of discussing with tobacco growers, merchants, dealers, bankers, warehouse men and others interested in the industry, tentative regulations for warehousing tobacco under the provisions of the United States Warehouse act. These hearings were attended by members of the trade who were representative of the tobacco industry generally, and considerable interest was shown in the bureau's work.

At first there was an attitude of skepticism regarding the benefits to be derived from the warehousing of tobacco under the provisions of the warehouse act. Doubt was expressed that the bureau would be able to devise satisfactory tobacco standards, but in every instance, before the end of the hearing, the bureau's intention to take immediate action in carrying out its plans to place the marketing of tobacco upon a sound basis was approved.

Provides For Financing
Under the provisions of the United States Warehouse act, the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to license warehouses for the storage of cotton, grain, flax seed, wool and tobacco. The chief purpose of the act, with respect to tobacco, is to establish a system of warehouses in which tobacco may be safely stored, and through which the industry can more easily be financed and tobacco more advantageously marketed.

To accomplish this purpose the act is designed to provide a form of warehouse receipts which will be readily acceptable and widely negotiable as security for loans. Any warehouse that adequately protects the tobacco stored therein may be licensed. The regulations under the act provide for inspection of the premises at irregular intervals, examinations of the commodities stored and observance by the warehouse men of standards of business practice.

Since the passage of the act more than 300 applications for warehouse licenses have been received by the Bureau of Markets, the majority of them during the last year. Producers and warehouse men now appear to appreciate the benefits to be derived from the warehouse act. The bureau's regulations for the warehousing of tobacco are in the hands of the printers and will be ready for general distribution in the near future. How soon tobacco grades will be recommended will depend upon the ability of the bureau to carry on the work with the limited funds at its command. The bureau has received many assurances of co-operation by the tobacco industry.

ANNOUNCING FOR POSTMASTER

There is a certain ingenuousness that is refreshing in prominent Republicans of various Kentucky towns "announcing" for postmaster to succeed Democrats. They very frankly seem to proceed upon the idea that the appointment of postmasters is to return to the old spoils system, and that the Civil Service method, which has been greatly expanded under the present Administration, is to be scrapped.

For some time Civil Service examination had been held to select postmasters or the smaller offices, but the larger and more attractive appointments were left to be distributed by Congressman and Senators along political lines. Soon after Dr. Wilson became President he issued an executive order extending the operations of the Civil Service to post offices of all classes, and that order has been fairly and honestly administered.

In the city of Boston, which is overwhelmingly Democratic, a Republican received the appointment from President Wilson as postmaster because the Civil Service tests to which all applicants submitted, disclosed that his qualifications were superior to any others who sought the office. Coming to Kentucky, there are the instances of Elizabethtown and Russellville, two overwhelmingly Democratic towns, Republican postmasters, because the Republicans in these towns stood at the top of the eligible list, and charges could not be sustained against either of them. These are only a few examples given to prove the fidelity with which the President's order has been executed.

Now, before a Republican President has even taken his seat, we find leading Republican politicians in numerous Kentucky towns, making their arrangements to dispose of bestowing them upon the "boys" the offices in the good old way of who can "deliver" at the next election. This is indeed a rare piece of effrontery, and if carried out it invites the strongest reprisals at the hands of the Democratic party upon its return to power, when that day comes.

What is "sauce for the goose" should be sauce for the gander, and if a Republican can be appointed postmaster, by virtue of the Civil Service regulations, under a Democratic Administration, there is no just reason why a Democrat should not be retained or appointed under a Republican Administration.

We have no quarrel with the Civil Service system as it applies to post offices. Occasionally it may work some injustice; upon the whole it is right. But it should, in all honor, be kept inviolate during the Harding Administration as it was observed under President Wilson.

Especially is this true when we recall the language of the Republicans National platform of 1920, which said: "We renew our repeated declaration that the civil service shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended where ever practicable."—Elizabethtown News.

HIROPPING RISKS HELD ON CENTRAL KENTUCKY BARN

Lexington, Ky., January.—It became known that certain fire insurance companies are canceling policies held on tobacco barns in some Central Kentucky counties because of the unsettled conditions in the tobacco industry, and the recent barn burned, and which fires originated from unknown causes.

If the war had not been won in 1918, what would have been your income tax for 1920? Pay it with thankfulness.

MEASURE TO REGULATE PACKERS ADOPTED

Majority of Democrats Favor
License Bill While Republicans Oppose

Washington, Jan. 31.—By a margin of 13 votes the Senate late Monday passed the long-fought bill for Federal regulation of meat packers and other agencies of the livestock industry.

The vote was 46 to 33, and the legislation, the center of bitter controversy for a decade, now goes to the House, with its supporters hopeful of final action during the present session of Congress.

A special rule to expedite House action is to be sought.

Partisan division in the Senate was lacking, but most Democrats supported the bill, while a majority of the Republicans opposed it. The party line-up was 18 Republicans and 28 Democrats for passage, with 23 Republicans and 10 Democrats against.

All fundamental features of the legislation, as presented by the Agricultural Committee as a substitute for the original Kenyon-Kendrick bill, were retained by the Senate.

Federal Board Ordered

The bill would form a Federal Livestock Commission of three members, appointed by the President, to have jurisdiction over the livestock industry.

This commission would have power to issue orders, collect and disseminate information, have access to packer's books and have general supervision over packers, stockyards, commission men and similar agencies. Review of the Livestock Commission's orders would be provided for by the bill which also prescribes rules for conduct of the packing business and stipulations against monopoly, unfair trade practices, engaging in unrelated industries and other similar acts.

Voluntary licensing of packers also is provided for, an attempt by Senator Atlee Pomerene, of Ohio, Democrat, to eliminate this feature having been defeated Monday 43 to 34.

But two important amendments were adopted by the Senate before passing the bill. One, by Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, Republican, would include horses, mules and goats within the operations of the bill, although horse and mule meat markets would be excluded from the proposed Federal supervision.

Another amendment, by Senator Key Pittman, of Nevada, Democrat, would exempt from the bill's provisions all persons whose chief business is livestock growing or production of agricultural products. The author declared that the legislation should not extend to small stock growers who operate their own feeding yards.

Other amendments adopted included one by Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, Republican, providing that all proceedings of the Livestock Commission should be open to the public, and an amendment by Senator Pomerene, declaring that upon enactment of the bill all supervision of the Federal Trade Commission over the livestock industry should be terminated and transferred to the Livestock Commission.

Backers of the bill succeeded in withstanding virtually all other revisions proposed, and also defeated a motion to recommit the bill to the Agriculture Committee.

An amendment by Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, Democrat, proposing that packers give a week's notice of bids and prices for live stock, was lost, 70 to 3.

The author said it was designed to stabilize the market.

GRAYSON TOBACCO MARKET CLOSED AT FARMERS' REQUEST

Grayson, Ky., January.—The tobacco market closed here thirty minutes after opening at the request of farmers on account of low prices. The floor was covered with tobacco, seventy-five wagons were on the street and two cars on the switch ready to be unloaded. Most of the grades of tobacco are fifty per cent lower than last week.

LEGLESS WAR HERO SAVES LIFE OF GIRL AT MIAMI

Miami, Fla., Jan. 29.—Bob Steele who lost both legs in the world war, saved the life of a baby girl on the beach here by pushing his wheeled platform in front of a motor car to hurl her out of the way. The machine knocked Steele over, but he escaped with slight injuries.

WASHINGTON SERVANTS ARE SOCIETY'S GUESTS

At Dinner When Debutantes Aid
In Serving Until Wine
Levels Barriers

Washington, Jan. 28.—If society in other cities is looking for a novelty it may follow the example of a prominent Washington family, which introduced a decidedly "epic" innovation the other night.

It was decided that masters and servants should change places for one night. "James, me man," became "Mr.," "Sir" and "Honorable" "Bridget" and "Marie" became "Lady" and "Madame," and of course, vice versa.

The servants of half a dozen Washington households were invited. They attended every one of them, and—Shush! Real scandal! It is said that none other than a former high Government dignitary answered the bell in the complete regalia of the doorman when the servants were admitted at the front door—for the first time in their lives.

The tables had been turned. "James" was considerably fussed, and there was no end to the surprises. On every hand the elite were bowing to and serving the servants. It was a glorious and long-to-be-remembered night for the servants to step into shoes of the wealthy, just once, to see how it felt.

There was an elaborate dinner, with the real madame, prominent matrons and society buds hustling back and forth from the kitchen to the dining room. No soup was spilled, and the household economic were indicated to have been courses taught at boarding schools, thorough, judging from the repartee served.

During the dinner entrancing orchestral strains came from the ballroom. Following the demi-tasse the real evening began. The dance was on. Incidentally the wine cellar was opened.

Right at this juncture the "social servants" lost the servile mien which they had struggled to maintain all evening. Good fellowship prevailed until, finally, one could not tell who was servant and who was guest, it was related over many teacups the next day.

Anyway, it was a grand party and continued late into the night. "James" and "Bridget" slept the sleep of the leisure class and arose as the leisure class do—about noon—though not to have breakfast served in bed, but to serve it.

Gone But Not Forgotten

"Are caterpillars good to eat?" asked little Tommy at the dinner table.

"No," said his father; "what makes you ask a question like that while we are eating?"

"You had one on your lettuce, but it's gone now," replied Tommy.

TWISTING OWN TOBACCO

And Selling To Consumer Is Contrary To Law, Official Says

John C. De Moss, Internal Revenue Collector at Covington, stated Monday he has had numerous inquiries from farmers recently as to whether they would be permitted to twist their own tobacco and sell it direct to consumers. The officer said such a proceeding would be a violation of the revenue laws unless the farmer would obtain a manufacturer's license, which requires that every detail of the manufacture of tobacco, including the showing of the specific building wherein such manufacture is carried on, to be made in monthly statements to the Government.

Mr. De Moss expressed the belief that the small grower with only a few thousand pounds of tobacco could not operate legally with profit because of the sharp competition of large manufacturing plants.

Mr. De Moss said the inquiries have been more frequent this year than ever before because of the low prices of tobacco.

Everlasting Fire

Mistress (to cook from the country).—"Well, what do you think of our gas fires?"

Cook—"I think them wonderful, ma'am. Why, those in the kitchen haven't gone out since I came here over a week ago."

Father's Violence

Jack—"Was her father violent when you asked for her hand?"

Tom—"Was he? Great Scott! I thought he would shake my arm off."

A Husky Sorrow

Merry One—"Cheer up, old man! Why don't you drown your sorrow?"

Sad One—"She's bigger than I am and, besides, it would be murder."

The Bill May Take It Away

Doctor (to patient): Well, how are you feeling this morning?

Patient: Very much better, thank you, doctor. The only thing that troubles me is my breathing.

Doctor: Um—yes, we must see if we can't get something to stop that.

Ireland Wins

"Talking of hens," remarked the American visitor, "reminds me of an old hen my dad once had. She would hatch out anything from a tennis ball to a lemon. Why, one day she sat on a piece of ice and hatched out two quarts of hot water."

"That doesn't come up to a club-footed hen my mother once had," remarked the Irishman. "They had been feeding her by mistake on sawdust instead of oatmeal. Well, sor, she laid twelve eggs and sat on them, and when they hatched eleven of the chickens had wooden legs and the twelfth was a woodpecker."

A Marked Resemblance

"I was reading a pitiful thing last night," gravely said the presiding

elder. "A noted traveler relates that one of the most tragic circumstances of his journey through Siberia was the wild children who ran in bands, screaming and spitting like wildcats at all who came near them."

"Whur did you say this feller seed all that at?" interestingly inquired Gap Johnson, of Rumpus Ridge, Ark.

"In Siberia."
"In Sibeery, hey? Well, I'll be dogged! Sounds like he'd been hangin' around yur watchin' my fourteen children."

Questions of Direction
Arithmetic, according to the average small boy, was simply invented in order to give teachers a good excuse for punishing their unhappy pupils. And, certainly little Tommy Smith found it the unpleasant feature of his young life.

"Now, Tommy Smith," said the school teacher one morning, during the usual hours of torture, "what is the half of eight?"

"Which way, teacher?" asked the youngster, cautiously.

"Which way!" replied the astonished lady. "What do you mean?"

"Well, on top or sideways, teacher?" said Tommy.

"What difference does that make?"

"Why," Tommy explained, with a pitying air, "half off the top of eight is nought, but half of it sideways is three."

The Little Pie

"Jimmy," said the fond mother to her smart eleven-year-old, "what became of that little pie I made for you as a treat yesterday? Did you eat it?"

"No, mamma," answered Jimmy with a grin; "I gave it to my teacher at school instead."

"That was very nicely and generous of you, Jimmy," complimented his mother. "And did your teacher eat it?"

"Yes, I thing so," answered Jimmy. "She wasn't at school today."

Political Complications

Mistress—"How did you happen to leave your last position?"

New Maid—"The lady fired me."

Mistress—"Ah, she was dissatisfied!"

New Maid—"Naw. She was a sorehead. I run for alderman ag'in her and won."

Right Again

Teacher—"Willie, have you whispered today without permission?"

Willie—"Only wunst."

Teacher—"Johnny, should Willie have said 'wunst'?"

Johnny—"No'm; he should have said 'twice.'"

INFORMATION FROM THE EXPERIMENT STATION—AGRICULTURAL PAPERS AND THE COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

23 Kentucky Cows Make Honor Roll
Lexington, Ky., Feb. 23.—A seven year old Jersey cow, New Year's Frolic 2nd, owned by the Allen Dale Farms at Shelbyville, led the list of 23 Kentucky dairy cows including 15 Jerseys, seven Holsteins and one Guernsey which won a place for themselves on the December Honor Roll of the state by producing more than three pounds of butterfat during the two days that they were tested under the supervision of the State College of Agriculture, according to an announcement made by J. J. Hooper in charge of the college dairy. The December champion produced 94.2 pounds of milk and 4.73 pounds of butterfat during the two days.

Oldham County with eight "honor" cows leads the list for December. Shelby County was second with seven, Christian County third with three and Todd County fourth with two individuals on the list. Boone, Mason and Fayette counties each placed one cow on the roll, the animal from Fayette county being a Guernsey owned by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

The list of owners having cows on the December roll included the Allen Dale Farms at Shelbyville, Shelby County; Gray-VonAllmen Farms, LaGrange, Oldham County; J. C. Askew, Trenton, Todd County; C. W. Smith and Son, LaGrange, Oldham County; G. H. Stowe, Hopkinsville, Christian County; W. W. Hampton and Son, Goshen, Oldham County; Omer Cleek, Beaverlick; Boone County; Perraut Brothers, Dover, Mason County; and the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, Fayette County.

Club Champions Are Announced
Lexington, Ky.—Four Kentucky boys and one girl have been named 1920 champions in the various lines of junior club work and will each receive a handsome silver cup as a result of a summary of the past year's work which has just been completed, according to a statement issued by C. W. Buckler, state leader of the junior club work for Kentucky. The youngsters who were distinguished from the 4,000 others participating in the work and their records are as follows: Everett Reynolds, Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle County, greatest yield of corn on an acre, was 105 bushels; also the best all-round club boy growing corn; Roscoe Kasb, St. Helens, Leo County, greatest profit on an acre of corn; Elizabeth Smith, Campbells-ville, Taylor County; best all-round club member growing poultry and Glennus, Jellico, Whitley County, best all-round club member growing pigs.

Features Added For Conclave of Farmers
Lexington, Ky.—Announcement has just been made that another feature in the form of a farmers' get-together banquet will be added to the program of the Ninth Annual Farm and Home Convention to be held at the College of Agriculture, Feb. 1-4, inclusive. The banquet will probably be held Thursday night, Feb. 3, according to a statement made by Dean Thomas P. Cooper, of the State College.

It has also been announced that L. B. Clore, treasurer of the Federal Land Bank of Louisville will be in Lexington Feb. 1 and 2 to talk to the farm men and women who attend the convention.

Farm Bureau Going Some
One thousand members is the goal that the Jefferson County Farm Bureau has set for itself for accomplishment this Spring. The membership now is a little over the seven hundred mark and new members are being enrolled every week. Every member sign up a member is the motto the bureau is holding before its constituents.

Almost five hundred members were present at the annual meeting of the Jefferson County Bureau; the large attendance showing the interest and enthusiasm the organization has aroused in its community.

At the annual meeting an Associate County Agent was appointed in the person of Mr. S. W. Anderson, of Noblesville, Ind., a graduate of the Indiana Agricultural College and for the past three months assistant County Agent of Marion County, Ky.

The employment of Mr. Anderson was made possible through the co-operation of the College of Agriculture, County Board of Education, the County Fiscal Court and the Jefferson County Farm Bureau. Mr. Anderson will act as Club and Cost Account Agent for Jefferson County. He is well qualified by experience to take charge and supervise this work.

Feed stuffs at Wholesale prices has been secured for its members by this bureau and this alone will pay back dues with a handsome dividend besides.

Jefferson County Bureau has prospered and grown because it has demonstrated to farmers the worth of the movement. It has mapped out a program for the next year that will mean much to its members not only in dollars but in many other respects.

The officers of the Jefferson County Bureau are:

J. Lewis Letterie, President; Henry Deibel, Vice-president; T. B. Miller, Secretary; R. W. Hite, treasurer. F. E. Merriman is County Agent.

Home Demonstration Agents Meet January 26

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky's 21 home demonstration agents representing as many counties in the state will meet in the annual conference for 1921 at the State College of Agriculture, Jan. 26-31, according to an announcement made by Miss Margaret Whittemore, state leader of the agents. Three out-of-state speakers have been scheduled for special talks. The entire group of agents together with local workers will take part in the discussion of the demonstration work as it applies to the farm women of the state.

The special speakers which have been engaged include: Miss Lita Bane, state leader of Home Demonstration Agents in Illinois; Miss Emma B. Matteson, Western Reserve University and a Washington representative who has not been selected. Dr. Arthur McCormick, president, State Board of Health and Miss Lavinia Bonner, town and country secretary of the Y. W. C. A. will also address the women.

Free To Farmers

A complete study of carburetor systems of tractors from the fuel tank to the connections gaskets will be one of the distinct features of the two-day tractor school which will be held at Beaver Dam, Ky., February 21 and 22 by the Farm Engineering Department of the State College of Agriculture, which is co-operating with county agent M. L. McCracken in giving the work to Ohio County farmers who are present or prospective owners of tractors.

The course will be in charge of Earl G. Welch from the state college who will be assisted by County Agent M. L. McCracken and several local tractor companies. Several representative types of farm tractors will be available for the use of those taking the course and the lectures and laboratories which will be held will be illustrated by means of lantern slides, charts and tractor accessories.

The entire course has been designed to make farmers more efficient operators of farm power units and in addition to carburetors every important part of these machines will be given special attention. Those enrolling in the course will be allowed to study the different types of machines and will also be given an opportunity to operate them.

The course will be given free to all those who care to take it. Full particulars concerning it may be obtained from county agent M. L. McCracken.

WOMAN WHO KILLED HAZARD MAN FREED

Hazard, Ky., Jan. 21.—Miss Mary McIntosh, who shot and killed John Sexton, former Chief of Police here, in a room of the Beaumont Hotel two weeks ago, was acquitted by a jury today.

John Napier, a policeman, testified that he found a knife in Sexton's hand when he entered the room immediately after the shooting.

The Commonwealth sought to prove that improper relations had existed between the woman and Sexton, and that the man was killed because she had tired of him.

The defendant testified that she had never had improper relations with Sexton, but that he had been making improper proposals to her for some time.

She said that Sexton had come to her rooms three times the morning of the shooting and that he had been drinking. When she refused his request he attacked her with a knife and she fired the shot which killed him, she testified.

The woman then went to the Court House and into the Circuit Court room, where court was in session, and announced to the Judge that she had killed Sexton.

HOT, FAT, SPARKS

A detailed study of maguetos as they apply to the operation of farm tractors will be one of the principal features of the two-day tractor school to be held at Beaver Dam, Ky., Feb. 21 and 22 by County Agent M. L. McCracken in co-operation with the State College of Agriculture. The course will be under the direction of Earl G. Welch, of the Farm Engineering Department of the State College and free instruction in the care and operation of farm power units will be given to all persons in the county who are interested. Several local companies are co-operating with Mr. McCracken and it has been announced that representative types of farm tractors will be available for study.

In the study of maguetos care will be taken to explain common faults of owners and operators in the use of this accessory. In addition to the study of maguetos the course will include a number of lecture and laboratory demonstrations on the other parts of the machines. All lectures will be illustrated by means of charts and tractor accessories.

God Bless Ministers, But Remember Editors

A child is born in the neighborhood, says the "Derrick" of Gibsonburg; the editor gives the loud-lunged youngster and the happy parents a send-off and gets $0.00. It is christened and the minister gets $5 and the editor gets $0.00. The editor blushes and tells a dozen lies about the beautiful and "accomplished" bride. The minister gets $10 and a piece of cake and the editor gets $0.00. In the course of time she dies; the doctor gets from $15 to $100, the minister gets perhaps another $5, the undertaker gets from $75 to $200, the editor gives the deceased a column write-up extolling her many virtues and gets $0.00. No wonder so many country editors get rich. Have you paid your subscription?

MULE'S LEG IS BROKEN IN KICKING MAN'S HEAD

Huntsville, Ala., Jan. 22.—The claim of Joseph Jones, of Merriam, to hospital attaches here that he had "some bean," was borne out when his story that he had been kicked by a mule on the head and that as a result the animal was lying helpless with a broken leg was investigated and found to be true.

Jones said his way was blocked by a stray mule and he made a threatening gesture to frighten it away. It refused to stampede, however, meeting the assault with a well-directed kick to the blow. The mule's leg was broken in two places. It was pronounced a helpless cripple and shot.

Jones will recover.

Suggestive of More

A visitor to the household of a colored man in Georgia was much impressed by the thriftiness of the mistress of the house. "That's a hard-workin' wife you've got, Joe," said he.

"Yes," said Joe, with the utmost gravity. "I wish I had a couple more like her."

TETRAZZINI COMING TO LOUISVILLE

Famous Singer to Appear in Concert at Gypsy Smith Tabernacle On February 4th

Mme. Luisa Tetrazzini, who is considered by many critics to be the greatest living coloratura singer, will appear in concert at the Louisville Tabernacle, which is now known as the Auditorium, on Friday evening, Feb. 4th.

One of the most brilliant of careers has been Tetrazzini's. Her voice is a natural one of marvelous fluency, enabling her to execute the most difficult coloratura passages with no sign of effort. It is also of exceptional range as she sings high F sharp.

Following Tetrazzini's success in many foreign lands, W. H. Leahy, who is managing the diva's present tour, presented her at the old Tivoli Opera House in San Francisco, where she was acclaimed as one of the world's greatest sopranos. Tetrazzini later was associated with opera companies in New York and Chicago and also has made many brilliant concert tours. It is the consensus of opinion that she has never sung better than at the present time.

With the noted star at the Louisville concert there will be three assisting artists all of whom are musicians of note. They are Frances co Loggo, pianist, Max Gegna, cellist, and J. Henri Bove, flutist, and will be heard in solo and ensemble numbers making the program one of great variety.

Bradford Mills and Merle Armitage are managing the Tetrazzini concert, which will be one of the most important musical events ever staged in Louisville. Mail orders may be sent to Grace Denton, secretary, care of The Stewart Dry Goods Co. Piano Department. Prices are $1.10, $1.65, $2.50 and $3.30.

PROCLAMATION ISSUED BY GOV. MORROW

Characterizing present conditions with reference to the violation of the prohibition laws as "shameful," and declaring that the "bootlegging and moonshiner today challenge law and order in Kentucky," Gov. Morrow has written a strong letter to Kentucky Sheriffs invoking a strict enforcement of all "dry" statutes.

In the letter received by Sheriff Hagan the Governor wrote:

"As one of the chief law enforcing agents of your county, and as a fellow public servant chargeable also with the enforcement of the laws of the Commonwealth, I write you concerning the present shameful violation of the Prohibition Law in Kentucky.

"I do not exaggerate when I say that the bootlegger and moonshiner, and those allied with them, today challenge law and order in Kentucky. The impudent, brazen and determined violation of this law is rapidly bringing into contempt all law; is weakening public authority and lessening the confidence of the people of Kentucky in their laws, their courts and their public officials.

"I believe in the high integrity, in the capacity and courage of the State's law-enforcing agents, and I feel that you will be glad to lend every power of your energy and your office to the suppression of this outbreak of lawlessness.

"In the enforcement of this law I believe you will have the support of the right-thinking men and women of Kentucky. I believe that you quickened and aroused public sentiment will rally to your assistance.

"We can and we must accept the challenge so hauntingly offered, and having accepted it, we must re-establish the supremacy of the laws of the land.

"Let me know how I can be of service to you.

"Most sincerely yours,
"EDWIN P. MORROW,
"Governor of Kentucky."

Reason Enough

Johnny—"What nukes the new baby at your house cry so much, Tommy?"

Tommy—"It don't cry so very much—and, anyway, if all your teeth were out, your hair off, and your legs so weak you couldn't stand on them, I guess you'd feel like crying yourself."

"Mother," asked the little boy, "when the fire goes out, where does it go?"

"I don't know dear," answered mother. "You might just as well ask me where your father goes when he goes out."

OHIO COUNTY BOY WRITES FROM PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

The writer of the following letter, Roy C. Bennett, is an Ohio County boy and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett, of this city. He is Associate Editor of The Daily Manila Bulletin and tells some interesting experiences they have been having in that city.

Manila, P. I., Dec. 20, 1920.

Dear Father, Mother and George: I hesitate to tell you what I have been through within the last week for you may think that my life is in danger over here. As a matter of fact I think that I am as safe here as anywhere. You have your stirs at home and we have ours here.

I shall tell you briefly what has happened. The soldiers of the Philippine constabulary (The constabulary is a sort of insular police, an organization of Filipino soldiers whose duty it is to keep peace and order in the islands) terrorized a part of the city, when a fight between a band of 77 constabulary men and the Manila city police broke out. A policeman arrested a constabulary man Tuesday night over a woman. The constabularyman resisted arrest and the policeman shot him, wounding him seriously. There had been ill feeling between the constabularymen and policemen for a long time, and this affair intensified the feeling. The feeling ran so high that the constabulary men stationed in Manila, about 200 of them, were locked in their barracks. But early Wednesday night 77 of them stole out their guns, broke through a window, to get out on the streets and opened fire on whomsoever they saw. As result 11 people were dead and several others wounded in a very short time. Among those killed were one captain of police, one American army field clerk, two American policemen, two or three Filipino policemen and others who happened to be in the vicinity of the battle. The constabulary men soon were rounded up and taken back to their barracks. Now 77 of them are in jail charged with murder. We sure did have some excitement for a time.

There was much doing for a newspaperman, of course. I was at the scene of the shooting soon after it happened, seeing dead men scattered around there and the streets looking as if a real battle had just been staged there.

To make my work all the heavier the whole thing happened while Mr. Zeininger was away on a little vacation, leaving me in charge of the paper. He went to the mountains a week ago Thursday and got back last night. I have not seen him yet as he did not come to the office last night after he reached the city but he called me up on the telephone and said that he wanted to congratulate me on the way I handled the paper in his absence. Naturally, it made me feel rather good, because I sure was up against a big job and had to work in a break-neck rush night and day. Mr. Zeininger is quite an agreeable man to work for and appreciates it when a fellow puts over a hard piece of work in a manner he can approve. I think that the job I had this time was the hardest I ever went through and now I naturally am rather proud when I am told that I did fine in it.

I think some times that I am foolish to work as hard as I do in such cases but when one gets real pleasure out of his work he cannot help working hard. I find in my work the greatest of pleasure. The delight of my job is not in the pay check which I receive but in the satisfaction of doing a work which naturally is fascinating and which I like above anything else in the way of work.

A man and his wife from Columbia, Mo., have just arrived in the city. He comes to teach in the University of the Philippines. I have just talked to him on the telephone and he and his wife will take dinner with me tonight. I knew him slightly in Columbia. Another University of Missouri young man recently came here to work for this paper, his coming being due to him writing me through Dean Williams. He is rooming with me. He seems to be a very nice chap and an agreeable sort of a roommate. I think that he will make good on the paper too.

With love to you all, your boy,
ROY.

KENTUCKY BANKS MUST ADVERTISE OLD DEPOSITS

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 29.—Banks throughout Kentucky have just been instructed by State Banking Commissioner James P. Lewis, to advertise all deposits made in it, and dividends and interest declared which have not been claimed by the person to whom it is certified within five years. Publication in two issues of a newspaper published in the county in which the bank is located is required.

Under the law publication of unclaimed deposits, interest and dividends must be made in January and must be made under the oath of the cashier. The advertisement also must contain the source from which money is derived.

Mr. Lewis' letter, now going forward to the banks, calls attention to Article 592 of the Kentucky statutes and instructs the bankers to place their advertisements in the newspaper of "most general circulation." Banks must clip one or more of the statements from the newspaper in which they are published and mail them to his office.

PUPIL THEN MOTHER, ATTACKS GIRL TEACHER

Pikeville, Ky., Jan. 21.—After Millard Kinney, 16 years old, had been whipped by his teacher, Miss Lorne Cisney, in the public school he struck her over the head with a club, inflicting a slight wound. When Miss Cisney wrested the club from him he rushed out of the building and ran home.

After a few minutes his mother, who has a reputation as a fighter, entered the school, rushed on the teacher and seized her when the police arrived.

Mrs. Kinney was arraigned in police court and was fined $20.

A Ladies' Tea

"I've come to kill the printer," said the little man as he entered the Bobtail office. "Any printer in particular?" asked the foreman. "Oh, any kind will do. I would prefer a small one, but I've got to make some sort of a show at a fight or leave home, since the paper called my wife's tea party a 'swill affair'."

Natchez, Miss.—"The best medicine I have ever used in my home are Dr. Pierce's. We have used the 'Golden Medical Discovery' as a blood medicine and as a tonic, also for deep-seated coughs and weak lungs, and it was excellent. 'I always keep Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in my home for use when needed. I have given them to my children since they were quite small. They can be given with safety to the smallest child, owing to their being free from any injurious drug. They regulate the stomach, liver and bowels in a mild, but very effective way. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pierce's medicines.'—MRS. J. B. GILBERT, 212 St. Catherine Street. All druggists.

LOWER Farm Implement Prices

The break has come! For some-time prices paid for your farm product have been low. It is but natural for you to want lower prices on the farm implements used in producing your crops.

Announcement is made by the OLIVER CHILLED PLOW WORKS of a general price reduction in their lines that brings prices to the basis of 1918. They are the first to make this reduction and are taking the loss that the move brings—for there has been little reduction in labor or material—as their contribution in hastening a return to normal conditions.

This is your opportunity to secure new, up-to-date Oliver quality implements that will help you produce a full crop, and get them at a price in line with the reduced prices on your farm products.

DAVIS FACES IMPORTANT JOB.

Prominent Illinois Legion Man Heads Committee on Hospitalization and Vocational Training.

Gen. Abel Davis, who has been appointed chairman of the committee on hospitalization and vocational training of the American Legion, is a front-line soldier who won the Distinguished Service Cross and Croix de Guerre when he commanded the One Hundred and Thirty-second Infantry in France.

General Davis was born in Chicago and received his education in Chicago schools. He attended Northwestern university, and served as a member of the Illinois legislature and also held the position of recorder of deeds of Cook county, Illinois. He is now vice president and trust officer of the Chicago Title and Trust company.

The military career of General Davis dates back to 1897, when he enlisted in the Illinois National Guard. He served as a private in the Spanish-American war and remained in the army afterwards. He attained the rank of major, and served for some time on the Mexican border. After a short period at Camp Logan with the One Hundred and Thirty-first Infantry, he was promoted to colonel and given command of the One Hundred and Thirty-second Infantry, which participated in a number of major offensives in France. He has received the rank of brigadier general in the Illinois National Guard.

PEOPLE FAVOR BONUS BILLS

New York, New Jersey, Washington and South Dakota Sanction the Proposition.

The passage of soldier bonus bills in New York, New Jersey, Washington and South Dakota by overwhelming majorities at the November elections is unquestionable proof of the public's recognition of veterans' claims. It is the opinion advanced in an editorial which appeared recently in the American Legion Weekly.

"One-fourth of the five million men who served in the army and navy live in states which have shown their sense of justice by awarding compensation," the writer says. "Three-fourths of the veterans of the World War live in thirty-six states which have not faced the issue—in most of them because there have been no recent sessions of state legislatures."

"The United States senate will soon pass on the question of national compensation for World War veterans. Facing them squarely is the Fordney bill, adopted by the lower house. This bill will meet every test of justice. It is in accord with the sentiment of the people of the country as attested by the state bonus elections. Its passage by the senate will mark the fulfillment of a national obligation. The state bonuses are the expressions of a desire by the people to give a square deal. They do not lessen in any degree the federal responsibility, which cannot be avoided on the plea of state generosity."

NORTON IS NAMED ORGANIZER

World War Fighter Appointed Organizer of the Vermont Department of the Legion.

In keeping with the policy of the American Legion of electing real fighting men for its officials, Henry L. Norton, fifty years old, a fighter for four years and seven months in the Canadian and American armies during the World War, has been appointed organizer of the Vermont department of the Legion. Mr. Norton enlisted in the Canadian engineers in 1914, and served with them in France until 1917, when he received a commission in the American army. He served with the Three Hundred and Seventy-second Infantry, attached to the One Hundred and Fifty-seventh French brigade from its arrival in France March 18, 1918, until he was discharged in February, 1919.

There Are Fronts and Fronts. A mud-splattered doughboy slouched into the Y but where an entertainment was in progress and slumped into a front seat. Firm, kindly and efficient, a Y. M. C. A. man approached him saying: "Sorry, buddy, but the entire front section is reserved for officers." Wearily the youth rose. "All right," he drawled, "but the one I just got back from wasn't."—American Legion Weekly.

FIVE BILLS UP TO CONGRESS

Legion Legislative Committee is Pressing Passage of Measures Important to World War Men.

Five bills are being pressed by the legislative committee of the American Legion at the present session of congress. Foremost among those in public interest is the Fordney bill, which provides adjusted compensation for all ex-service men, but more important in the eyes of Legion men are the Watson bill, the Rogers bill, the Stevenson bill and a sundry appropriation bill allowing $10,000,000 for hospital construction.

The Fordney, or "bonus" bill, passed the house in the last days of the last session of the Sixty-sixth congress. It then was referred to the senate finance committee, of which Senator Hoots Penrose of Pennsylvania is chairman. Assurances were given that early hearings would be held on the bill.

The Fordney bill, as it stands now, provides a cash payment for all veterans up to and including the grade of captain, of one dollar a day for each day of home service, and $1.25 a day for foreign service, with a limit of $500 and $625, respectively. Or, the option of the same amount, plus 40 per cent if taken in the form of government certificates, assistance in the purchase of a home or farm or vocational training.

The Fordney bill, however, will be subordinated to the other four pet Legion measures, all of which aim at the improvement of the condition of the disabled. In this the legislative committee is following the mandate of the second national Legion convention, which went on record that "matters for the benefit of the sick and disabled are of first importance and are to be given preference over all other legislation affecting the welfare of the service men."

The Watson bill provides for 14 regional branches of the bureau of war risk insurance, as many sub-offices as may be necessary, and would make it possible for ex-service men to pay their government insurance premiums at any post office. It relieves from the payment of premiums disabled men in hospitals or taking vocational training and men temporarily disabled. It extends the time in which ex-service men may apply for hospitalization. It is a bill that would improve the efficiency of the war risk bureau and would give justice to the disabled. The Watson bill passed the house unanimously at the last session. It then was referred to a sub-committee of the senate finance committee.

The Rogers bill represents the efforts of the American Legion to obtain cooperation between the bureaus functioning for the benefit of disabled ex-service men. It provides for the transfer of the rehabilitation section of the federal board of vocational training and of the public health service to the jurisdiction of the war risk bureau. The plan is to have all the bureaus under one directing and responsible head, preferably a new cabinet officer.

The Stevenson bill would establish the same privilege of retirement for disabled officers of the emergency forces as is now enjoyed by officers of the regular army, a privilege already accorded by congress to emergency officers of the navy.

WELL KNOWN TO LEGION MEN

Gilbert Bettman, Chairman of the National Legislative Committee of the American Legion.

Gilbert Bettman, who was recently appointed chairman of the national legislative committee of the American Legion, is well known to many Legion members because he helped to draft the four-fold optional plan of adjusted compensation and, with James G. Scruggs, new national vice commander, presented it before the ways and means committee of the house of representatives.

Mr. Bettman was graduated from Harvard college and the Harvard law school with three degrees, and practiced law in Cincinnati until a short time after the outbreak of the war.

Appointed as assistant to the director of the bureau of war risk insurance, Mr. Bettman served in that capacity until the German offensive of March 21, when he was commissioned captain in the military intelligence division of the general staff.

Mr. Bettman attended the St. Louis caucuses of the American Legion and the Minneapolis and Cleveland conventions. He has served as chairman of the war risk committee and as a member of the national beneficial legislative committee.

General Sherman Stuff. It was a perfect French night. In other words, the rain was coming down steadily and the mud was at its stickiest. In "squad" formation—twos, threes, fives and sixes—a regiment of Buffaloes was moving into an alleged rest camp. The accent was on the camp.

The most forlorn of all the forlorn crew staggered against a barracks doorway where he was accosted by a white non-com.

"Well, Sam, whaddye think of this war now? Pretty good war?"

"Now, dis yeah war never was a good war—and dis last day practically done ruined it completely."—American Legion Weekly.

COMMUNITY PATRIOTISM

The following was written and sent in by a mere boy, and shows that he has been thinking of some things that are vital to our civic welfare:

Are you patriotic? Yes, of course you would do anything for the grand old U. S. A. But listen! Is that the only kind of patriotism? No, it certainly is not. Did you ever think of patriotism in the state and local community? Which is the greater patriotism? Why?

When you give anything to your state or community you are sure that you will receive something in return. Be patriotic to your local government; you can never regret it. When called upon to accept an office or to take a jurymen's place, offer no paltry excuses. Say I will go, and then go. If you don't, some idle ignorant person will be called and your fellowman will suffer.

Attend all elections or you will lose the power of self government and be governed by someone else. Go to the primaries and help nominate the man by whom you want to be governed. The government has to have money to carry on its business, so don't shirk from paying your taxes. Be patriotic and you will gain by a better government. —W. THEODORE DEVER.

REORGANIZATION BOARD OF HEALTH

At the call of the chairman, the Ohio County Board of Health, met in the offices of the County Judge Jan. 25th, 1921. Dr. E. B. Pendleton was elected secretary for the term, the chairman was directed to request the Physical Court, to appoint a woman, if possible to represent the county on the board. After reading the report of the secretary, the board adjourned, to meet at the call of the chairman. E. B. PENDLETON, Sec.

HARTFORD TEACHERS SPEND DAY IN OWENSBORO SCHOOLS

Prof. J. F. Bruner, Superintendent of the Hartford High and Graded school, accompanied by teachers, Roy H. Foeman, Miss Mary Marks, Miss Martha Stevenson, Mrs. S. O. Keown, Miss Alice Taylor and Miss Winnie Wilson, went to Owensboro, last Friday and visited many of the schools in that city, for the purpose of observing methods employed there.

They were met at the depot Friday morning by a committee composed of Teachers and Hi Y boys. The High School teachers were entertained by the High School faculty and Prof. Bruner with the grade teachers visited some of the graded schools where they observed the work of the teachers considered best in their particular grade. The teachers were much benefited by the visit, and Prof. Bruner, who has observed the work of many school systems in this and other states reports that the Owensboro system is among the best he has seen.

NEW PENSION BOARD ORGANIZED

The new members of the local Board Pension Examiners met at the office of Dr. E. B. Pendleton Hartford, Ky., and elected the following officers: President, Dr. P. T. Willis; Secretary, Dr. E. B. Pendleton; Treasurer, Dr. C. R. Bennett. The Board, will meet again Wednesday, Feb. 3, 1921, then, every first and third Wednesday in each month until further orders.
